the third chapter deals with modern attempts by natives towards the liberty of their churches the fear of the doctrine becoming weakened by natives taking it into their own hands is addressed by chapter four and this fear is widened into the realm of the christian standard of morals in chapter five civilisation and enlightenment form the central themes of the sixth chapter chapters seven and eight tackle the distinction between the church and missionary societies it is in the final chapter that the future of spontaneous expansion is investigated and allen puts forward his ideas which as he rightly predicted were broadly accepted fifty years and longer still after their original publication
